Georgia
Gwinnett County } To the honorable the Inferior Court for said County.

The petition of the subscribers trustees of the Academy in said County respectfully sheweth, That your petitioners anxious to cooperate with your Honors in contributing to the happiness & welfare of their fellow citizens & the reputation of their County, & unwilling that Counties of the same age, and much more, that those whose soil bore only the print of savage footsteps when the political existence of this County commenced, should be before them in establishing seminaries of learning, are desirous, without delay, of commencing a building for the County Academy on a scale in some degree proportioned to the population & prospects of the County, but having received only the sum of five hundred Dollars from the treasury of the State, & being disappointed in their just & reasonable expectations of aid from the Legislature, must now look to your Honors for that aid without which the citizens of Gwinnett must for some time remain the humble tributaries of older Counties & dependent on them not only for a classical education of their sons and daughters, but also for instructors of primary schools. under these circumstances your petitioners most respectfully pray, that your Honors in the exercise of the powers vested in you by an act of the last Legislature will grant to your petitioners in their capacity of trustees of said Academy, that portion of the State tax which, by the said act your Honors are authorized to appropriate to such purposes as to you may seem

John P. Winn
vs
Jordon Odum & Ferdinand Odum

Ca Sa
from Justices Court

In Gwinnett Inferior Court June Term 1828 – In these cases a motion was made by Counsel for the Plaintiff to make the Constable Balam I Bridges who arrested the defendant on the 29th day of May last within twenty days of the sitting of this Court liable as Special Bail for not taking a Bond & Security pursuance & agreeable to an act entitled "an act for the relief of honest debtors" and the Court held & ordered that the said Constable be taken held & considered as special bail & it was further ordered that Judgment be entered up against the said defendant & against the said Constable for the amount of principal interest & cost of said Ca Sas although the said defendant was in Court but not delivered up & came voluntarily – Whereupon the said defendant & Balaam I Bridges Constable by their Attorney Elisha H Chester except to the opinion & orders aforesaid of said Court & moves that the same be reversed as contrary to law because the said Constable as Constable is not liable to any rule or process from this Court and because no bond being given for the appearance of said defendant agreeably to said act of this Court the Court can have no cognizance of the matter and because the Ca Sas would not be returned to the present term but to the next term of the same & also because the said Ca Sa is illegal the same being issued from a Justices Court & made returnable to the Inferior Court instead of the Court from which it issued which exceptions being tendered to the Court are hereby overruled – It is admitted that the Ca Sas were returned to this Court and no notice was taken of the date of the arrest until the case had been argued but were urged before any decision was made by the Court which exceptions were overruled.
